ENJOYABLE WEEK-END.

A most enjoyable week-end was spent at the Coral Gardens by Mr. and Mrs. Irwin F. Beadle and their two sons, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hill and their little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Lennox and their two sons and their small niece, Mary Stuart, and Master Douglas Guild. The party motored out to the Coral Gardens Saturday afternoon, plentifully supplied with duly Hooverized food, took possession of three of the cottages, and the kitchen to the main building, and proceeded to enjoy themselves till Monday morning after the fashion of true American vacationists.

The Coral Gardens are admirably suited for just such outings, being supplied with electric lights, beds and bedding, and all sorts of conveniences for picnicking, swimming, cooking one's own meals, and otherwise being happy in the country. The gardens are not being kept open this winter.

ENJOYABLE AFFAIR ON MAUI

WAILUKU, Nov. 26.—Last week on Monday Mrs. V. A. Vettesen gave a delightful afternoon to her friends. Her pretty residence was filled with the invited guests. Poinsettia, which blossomed early this year is Walluku, and ferns formed the decorations. The first part of the afternoon was spent in sewing for the Red Cross. Mrs. George N. Weicht, Jr., sang most sweetly a few Hawaiian songs. The pleasant afternoon closed with the serving of refreshments.

This afternoon Mrs. P. H. Ross entertained. Nearly thirty ladies were present. The affair was most delightful. After sewing the game of stabling peanuts was greatly enjoyed. Tables were arranged for this entertainment, after which refreshments were served. A number of ladies were unable to be present because of the unusually heavy downpour of rain. Decorations made Mrs. Ross' home very attractive.

A UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT.

Miss Agnes Chalmers thought of a different and decidedly acceptable way of entertaining on Thursday evening for some of her friends. She had had sent from her home a valise containing a three-course dinner. When the guests arrived they were asked to be seated round the table, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. The place cards were large spoons attached to imaginary ribbons, the ends of which were hidden in a large cake, used as a centerpiece. The valise was brought to the side of the table and opened and to the astonishment of the guests a fine home-made chicken dinner was set upon the table without any difficulty. After dinner the evening was devoted to a few musical selections and then the party attended the popular play of the week, "Study Hour."

SUMMER HOMES

Mr. and Mrs. Burr Freer and their attractive daughter, Miss Mary Freer, decided to pass the winter in town.

They will close within a few weeks their Belvedere home, where they have been having a most enjoyable summer, and will take a house in San Francisco. Miss Freer is at present recuperating from the effects of an operation for appendicitis which she was recently obliged to undergo at one of the local hospitals.—San Francisco Chronicle, Nov. 18.

CONGRESSIONAL BASEBALL.

The congressional baseball game yesterday at Moiliili park proved to be a real society event. A large turnout of local and service folk attended and a very enjoyable time was spent. Some sixteen girls of Honolulu's younger set passed baskets and a donation was taken up and the proceeds given to the Red Cross.

HOME FROM ISLANDS

Concluding a most delightful honeymoon in Honolulu, Mr. and Mrs. William Rothschild have returned to San Francisco. The wedding took place last month. Mrs. Rothschild was Miss Inez Estell Rosenberg. The bride and bridegroom have taken apartments at 2101 Van Ness avenue.—San Francisco Examiner.

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS DANCE.

The 4th Cavalry Enlisted Men's Athletic association announced a dance to be given at the 4th Cavalry Barracks on Saturday evening, December 1st, at 8 p. m., to which all members, their friends and all married enlisted men's families and their friends are cordially invited.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—The arrival in San Francisco during the week of Brig.-Gen. and Mrs. Edward J. McClelland was the cause of much rejoicing, both in army and civilian circles.

The news that they are to be here for an indefinite period of time—Gen. McClelland having been recalled from the retired list and placed in command of the Presidio—is also of great satisfaction, as both General and Mrs. McClelland enjoy an unusual degree of popularity in San Francisco. They have visited here on many former occasions, and were also stationed here for some time, so that they count their friends by the score.

Their last trip to San Francisco was made at the time of the exposition, when they were the center of much delightful entertaining. As soon as they are established in their quarters at the Presidio, a round of social gaiety in their honor will be inaugurated.—San Francisco Chronicle, November 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewers, lovingly known to islanders as "Uncle Robert" and "Aunt Kate," received a very hearty greeting from their many friends on their arrival home last Wednesday. They were accompanied by their son, William Lewers. Since leaving here the couple, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary the week they sailed, have visited Alaska and up through the north-west country, Canada and coast states, enjoying everything. Later they came to San Francisco, where they were the center of many social attentions. Honolulu extends a hearty welcome home.

Miss Pauline Magruder of Washington has come to San Francisco to spend the winter and is at the Fairmont. She is the daughter of the late Dr. Magruder of Washington, who was one of the most prominent physicians there, and is a sister of Captain Burns Magruder, U. S. A., who is at present stationed at Honolulu. The Magruder family are an old Virginia family and many members of it still live there. Miss Magruder, like many other young girls of Washington, is working for the government and has a position at army headquarters here.—San Francisco Chronicle, November 18.

A great deal of sympathy is extended to Mrs. Walter C. Cowles for the loss sustained through the death of her husband, Admiral Cowles, in Redlands, Cal. During the stay of Admiral and Mrs. Cowles here they made a large circle of friends. Mrs. Leo Sahn, who was Miss Cowles, was with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice were arrivals from Hawaii and Maui on Saturday and left today for their Lahue, Kauai, home, after a very brief visit here, much to the regret of their friends, who are always delighted with a visit from them.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Young of Hawaii are receiving the congratulations and good wishes of their friends. A baby boy has come to them. The little chap was born Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Adams were honeymoon arrivals on last Wednesday, coming to visit with Judge and Mrs. Edward M. Watson. Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Watson are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Guard came home from a very delightful visit to California on yesterday's steamer and were met at the wharf by their large circle of friends and family.

Mrs. E. L. S. Gordon, wife of the British consul here, arrived home from the Orient on Tuesday after a two months' visit, which time was spent with friends.

Mrs. R. T. Guard of Hilo was a Honolulu arrival on Tuesday for a short visit.

Mrs. Francis B. McStocker and Miss Julie McStocker were homecomers on last Wednesday after a charming visit. They went as far East as New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Adams (nee Christine Bradley) returned from the Volcano on Tuesday after a three days' stay at that interesting place.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilbur of Maui arrived in town on Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Otto Oss, who was Mrs. Wilbur's mother.

Miss Dorothy True and her sister, Miss Elinor True, former Honolulu girls, are here again for a visit, having arrived on the Manoa.

Miss Violet Atherton was a homecoming passenger on the Manoa yesterday after a delightful period on the mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lyman of Kapoho, Hawaii, left for their island home last Saturday after a brief visit here.

Miss Sadie McLain arrived home on yesterday's steamer after a very pleasant six months on the mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Goodale of Wailua plantation were arrivals on the Manoa from the mainland.

Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Magruder arrived on Tuesday from a short visit to the Volcano.

Mrs. A. C. Braly, wife of Dr. Braly, arrived home yesterday after a main land visit.

Mrs. C. G. Bockus was a homecoming passenger on the Manoa on Tuesday.

SCHOFIELD SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Girdler of Honolulu presided at a beautiful dinner party a week ago Saturday evening in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Chas. Jewel of Schofield Barracks. The table decorations were carried out in brilliant American Beauty roses and ferns. Small Japanese nut bowls were presented to the guests as favors. Guests from Schofield Barracks were the honorees, Miss Effie Keasley and Mr. Williams.

Mrs. Walter Pinckney spent a week at Fort Shafter as the guest of Mrs. Frederick Hadra.
